Abolitionism in South Carolina.

In the very midst of the secession movement for the protection of slavery, and during the session of the convention which is inaugurating the new kingdom of Cottonia, a highly incendiary document has been brought forward in the unexpired legislature of the state, asserting that negroes are men, having personal and civil rights which white men even in Cottonia are bound to respect. It appears that in the state of South Carolina there are nearly ten thousand free negroes, of whom a large proportion are in the city of Charleston. A bill was introduced providing that after the first day of January, 1862, all free persons of color within the state should be declared to be slaves to all intents and purposes. The bill was referred to a special committee, who not only reported adversely to the measure, but condemned in strong terms as unwise, unjust and inhuman. According to this report, the free negroes of South Carolina are thrifty, orderly and well disposed; they own a large amount of property, both real and personal; and many of them are owners of slaves. This last relation, we suppose, arises out of the peculiar legislation of the slave code. As the children of a slave mother are held to be slaves, and as it is forbidden to emancipate her upon the soil, the husband and father, if a free negro, must himself become the owner of his wife and children, as the only way of preserving them from perpetual slavery to others. Thus many a free negro at the south becomes legally a slaveholder, in order to defend his own wife and children from the grasp of white slaveholders. The only incident of slavery which the wife and children experience in such a case, is the liability of being seized and sold for the debts of the head of the family, or after his decease of being disposed of as slaves under the law of the state. The report speaks of these free negroes in the following terms:

"These people have not migrated to our shores, says the committee, and settled among us; but were born here, and reared in our midst. The ancestors of many were manumitted by our ancestors, as reward for their fidelity and loyalty. Some were emancipated in our own time, and, indeed, there are cases of those who were purchased and manumitted by our legislature; and there lives, at this time, one remarkable proof of this statement in the person of Peter Desverneys, who, for his fidelity and loyalty to the state, was purchased, manumitted, and now enjoys the privilege of a place on our pension-roll, and is the recipient of one of the largest pensions on that roll. Shall we, then, punish them for no other fault than being in a condition in which they have been placed by our ancestors and ourselves? Would this be just?—would it be honorable?

It appears that a number of the leading citizens of Charleston remonstrated against the proposed measure as one of "injustice and cruelty."

The report of the committee sets forth "certain practical difficulties" in the way of this measure, which are profoundly suggestive. Says the committee:

"From the report of the city assessor of Charleston, we find that the free persons of color in that now own:

Real property in Charleston proper for assessment, at	$761,870
Slaves at a fair valuation	300,000
To this may be added property not reached by taxation, including choses in action, etc., etc.	500,000
Total	$1,561,870

Making an aggregate of property in the city alone of one million and a half. On this property, together with the capitation tax, it will appear that, to the city alone, they pay a tax of $21,109,18.

"By the controller general's report it will moreover appear that they pay a further tax of four thousand three hundred and eighty dollars, and taking the assessed value of their real estate, as in the city, at seventeen cents ad valorem, they pay a tax on real estate of one thousand two hundred and ninety-five dollars, and a tax on slaves of three hundred and sixty-five, thus making an aggregate of taxes to the city and state amounting to twenty-seven thousand two hundred and nine dollars and eighteen cents. This statement shows that in the event of the passage of this bill, the public revenue will be diminished, in Charleston alone, to the amount of twenty-seven thousand two hundred and nine dollars and eighteen cents, which must be supplied by an additional taxation on the white population to that amount.

"But this view sinks into insignificance on consideration of the question, what will become of the one million and a half of property which belongs to them in Charleston alone, to say nothing of their property elsewhere in the state? Can it enter into the mind of any Carolina legislator, to confiscate this property and put it into the treasury? We forbear to consider anything so full of injustice and wickedness. Whilst we are battling for our rights, liberties and institutions, can we expect the smiles and countenance of the Arbiter of all events, when we make war on the impotent and unprotected, enslave them against all justice, and rob them of the property acquired by their own honest toil and industry, under your former protection and sense of justice?

"God forbid that this legislature could tolerate such a sentiment—forbid it humanity—condemn it enlightened legislation."

What a pregnant comment is this upon the alleged inferiority of the negro and the vaunted horrors of emancipation. How often we have been told that the negro is inferior in capacity to the white man; that he is by nature indolent and shiftless; that he will work only under the vigilant eye of the overseer; that he cannot be trusted with freedom; that his presence as a freeman would be dangerous to the white population. Yet here are nearly 10,000 free negroes—the majority of whom are manumitted slaves—owning collectively property to the amount of a million and a half of dollars, paying in the city of Charleston alone a tax of more than $27,000 per annum, a thrifty, useful class of citizens, because they are free. All the threadbare arguments against emancipation are rent asunder by this one weighty fact.

But the report of the committee contains a most decisive argument against slavery itself. Speaking of the proposal to confiscate the property of these free negroes, the committee say, "We forbear to consider anything so full of injustice and wickedness. While we are battling for our rights, liberties, and institutions, can we expect the smile and countenance of the Arbiter of all events, when we make war on the impotent and unprotected, enslave them against all justice, and rob them of the property acquired by their own honest toil and industry?" Is not this an incendiary appeal for the rights of men as men, irrespective of their antecedents or the accidents of condition? To take from free negroes their property is an act of "injustice and cruelty" not even to be thought of. What then is it to deprive a man of his right in himself, in his own labor, and the fruits of his own industry? What is it to "confiscate" the sacred rights of the family, and to make merchandise of men, women, and children? Is there no injustice or cruelty here, that men should shrink from before the Arbiter of all events?

It is "against all justice to make war upon the impotent and unprotected to enslave them." The weak and defenseless condition of the African, therefore, instead of being, as sometimes urged, a reason for placing him under a master, is the very argument against enslaving him. To enslave such an impotent and unprotected people, by the mere law of the strongest, would be "against all justice," and could never have the countenance of a just and righteous God. Moreover, the very argument which was so often urged by the fathers of the revolution, against slavery and the slave-trade—that it was inconsistent and inhuman for them to deprive others of the liberty they demanded for themselves—is here put with a force that commends it to every unperverted conscience. What a protest is this report against the injustice and cruelty of that system of slavery to uphold which South Carolina secedes from the Union! And what inflammatory abolitionism is this to utter, where even walls have ears, and every slave-cabin is now a secret conclave of insurrection!—New York Independent.

February Appointments.

Dr. V. C. Price,
ANALYTICAL PHYSICIAN,
OF BUFFALO, N. Y.,

WILL be for consultation on diseases generally, at Janesville, Ford House, on Friday and Saturday forenoon, the 15th and 16th of February; Woodstock, Feb. 17th and 18th; Whitewater, Feb. 14th; Racine, Feb. 11th.

Dr. Price devotes all of his time to the cure of Scrofula, Rheumatism, Fits, Nervous Maladies, Female Difficulties, Consumption, Throat, Liver, Heart, and all Chronic diseases.

Our practice of seventeen years standing differs from all others, founded on truth, no trifling with human existence, sacrificing life by experiments. We know on examination the cause of disease and remedies needed to remove it; not by guessing but by knowledge. No poisons or harsh medicines to ruin the constitution, no making sick to make well, tearing down to build up, giving encouragement without a prospect, no abandoning business or starving, nor coming once never to be seen again. We are regular every few weeks in our visits, frank in our opinions, honest in our dealings, and moderate in our charges. We invite investigation, claim not to know everything, or to cure everybody, but do claim to reason and common sense, and to cure seven out of ten pronounced incurable. We respectfully request those who have tried this respectable physician, that scientific doctor, boasted and advertised medicines and doctors till worn out and discouraged, to call upon us. It costs nothing, as consultation is free. dec31daw

Insurance against loss or damage by fire, on Dwellings, Furniture, Stores, Warehouses, Merchandise, Mills, Manufactories, and most other kinds of property, can be effected in this company upon as favorable terms as the nature of the risks and security of policy-holders will admit.

The above is the oldest company doing business in this state, and with peculiar propriety has been denominated "The Old Hartford." As an indemnity to the insured, it refers to a solid million of assets well invested; and if anything were needed to commend it to the public for liberal patronage, we might offer its history of success in business and honorable dealing with its patrons, for over half a century, as amply sufficient for the purpose.

THE above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt paying companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solvency and reliability and honorable dealing, they have but few equals, and no superiors. They are founded upon the very best securities in the world—first class bonds and mortgages upon property in New York and Brooklyn—securities that have not, for the past ten years, depreciated below par, and are every way more reliable and permanent than railroad, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable, in times of panic, as the experience of the past teaches, to become almost, if not entirely, valueless. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calculated to mislead by publishing partial and one-sided statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to reinsure their outstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital twice the amount, and in most instances four times, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage.

Policies issued without delay, and farms risks for a series of years taken at less rates than can be done by Mutual Companies, and a certainty given instead of an uncertainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid.

New York Life Insurance Company,

all well invested for the benefit of Policy holders, so that the profits of this vast sum pay a large proportion of their annual premiums. This is unquestionably the very best Life Company doing business in this state.

Official Paper of the City.

The Protection of Slavery Considered of more Importance than the Rights of White Men.

The compromises proposed by "conservative" republicans and "border state" democrats have, all of them, for their main proposition, the settlement of the slavery question. It is astonishing to see Douglas and Bigler, and all the great lights of democracy, who sneered at the negro question during the presidential campaign, ever recurring to it in their congressional resolutions and speeches. We remember Douglas declared that the republicans were continually thrusting that question upon congress to the exclusion of other business—they had no time, said he, to devote to tariffs, Pacific railroads and the commercial questions of the country—but it was the everlasting negro that absorbed their minds. We would call attention to the practice of those democrats during the present session of congress. Almost every day they vote to take up some resolution or amendment to the constitution, the sole object of which is to give slavery the advantage over all the other interests in the nation. The admission of Kansas was, for a long time postponed, for the consideration of Mr. Crittenden's amendments. The Pacific railroad bill received the go-by every day or two, that the negro question might be considered. The tariff cannot be brought up for a similar reason. The appropriation bills and the homestead bill have to be got through by management, by their friends, while the democracy are stark mad on this everlasting and overshadowing subject.—They think of nothing else, make speeches about nothing else, and come near forgetting even to pass bills for their own pay, so absorbed are they in settling the question of slavery. They complain bitterly in the house that the republicans will not discuss the question with them. These are the men, and this is the party which pretends, before the people, that they are disgusted with the negro question, and they really wish the republicans could be induced to talk about something else!

Well, there is one thing that might very profitably be talked about, and in relation to which some federal law should be enacted; and that is the protection of the lives, property and persons of citizens of the northern states who travel for pleasure or health, or sojourn on business, or in discharge of religious duties, in the southern states.

In none of the plans for conciliation on the part of the "conservatives" do we see any thing of this sort proposed, while it is really of vastly more importance that American citizens should be protected in their personal rights, than that a few runaway slaves should be returned to slavery, or paid for by those who will not aid in catching them.

The other day, when the friends of the Rev. Mr. Bewley, the Methodist minister who was murdered in Texas, solely because he was a minister of the Methodist denomination, petitioned to congress to protect religious freedom, a slave driver in the house objected to the reception of the petition, insolently insisting that the petitioners should mind their own business and that congress wanted none of their advice or suggestion.

Would it not be as well, while we are settling the question of the continuance of a union with the south, to know whether there is to be political and religious freedom for northern men in the south, when we again have peace?

We submit this question to compromisers and submissionists whether it would not be well to provide for this in their omnibus, if they expect PEACE to follow the treaty they are proposing to make with the seceding states.

COERCION.—The seceding states don't intend to be coerced into submission to the laws, and their sympathizers in the north cry out that the general government must not compel obedience from the rebels, for fear they will be irritated, and refuse to come back into the Union. We should like to know whether the recusant states are not practicing coercion upon the national government continually? They take possession of forts, and if, as in the case of the Star of the West, the national government attempts to reinforce one of their own forts, it is prevented by coercive measures—by acts of war. The rebels of Florida, Alabama and Louisiana are trying to coerce the commander of Fort Pickens to yield possession of it to them; and the secessionists of Mississippi are practicing coercion upon the steamboats on the Mississippi river, from other states, by planting a battery at Vicksburg. Isn't it about time for a little coercion on the other side?

KANSAS.—The bill admitting Kansas had a single amendment attached, allowing Buchanan to appoint a U. S. Judge, and must go to the house for concurrence. The Washington correspondent of the Chicago Tribune says we are indebted to Cameron for this. The house will, probably, not agree to the amendment, when the bill will come back to the senate, which will most likely recede, and thus the bill will be passed.

The new state of Kansas elected her state officers and a legislature on the 6th of Dec. 1859. Martin F. Conway was also chosen to represent the state in Congress. The legislature will be immediately called together to elect United States Senators.

REPORTED MOBBING OF THE DEMOCRAT.—We see from our Illinois exchanges, that a report that this office was mobbed on Saturday has been current in that state. How it originated we cannot tell, except, perhaps, in the denunciations with which we are honored by frequenters of fashionable grog shops. We take the occasion to say to our friends that our daily and weekly circulation is not only greater now than it has been at any previous time, but that it is increasing more rapidly in these days—in this very month of January—than during the same period last year or the year before.—St. Louis Democrat.

Synopsis of Wednesday Night's Report.

The motion of Mr. Bigler to take up the Crittenden amendment was lost by a vote of 24 to 27.

On motion of Mr. Douglas, the names of Wentworth and Judd were struck out of the Pacific railroad bill.

Mr. Lovejoy made a speech in the house. He appealed to republicans to stand by and see their principles carried out. "Stand still and see the salvation of the Lord."

Mr. Ethridge of Tennessee made a noble Union speech.

A proposition has been made for all the the members of the house to resign and have an election on the 22d of February. Bocock, Martin, Montgomery, Sickles, Florence and Clemens have signed it.

Two Columbiads have been mounted at Fort Pickens.

Fort McCree is being invested, and guns mounted by the allied forces of Florida, Alabama and Mississippi.

CHARLESTON, Jan. 23.

The battery on Sullivan's Island fired into a boat Monday night, which approached with muffled oars. The boat turned and went away. Soon after heard the boat haul up at Fort Sumpter, the man saying he was wounded badly. Some say that it was an effort to run the gauntlet of the sentry and spike the cannon, and others that they were deserters.

Jeff Davis is talked of as president of the new southern confederacy.

The Pennsylvania legislature has passed resolutions, by a strict party vote, declaring attachment to the Union, and that the constitution has sufficient power to maintain the Union. Amendments favorable to a compromise were rejected.

Quite a money panic prevails in Great Britain.

HOWE NOMINATED.—In the caucus held on Tuesday evening, Judge Howe on the eighth ballot received fifty two votes, and was declared unanimously nominated. We congratulate the republican party and the state at large upon this most auspicious result. Henceforth, the republican party of Wisconsin stands redeemed from the stigma and odium of Boothism, and the state no longer takes common ground with South Carolina nullifiers. Away with nullification whether it show its head in South Carolina or Ripon! Furthermore, without intending any disparagement of the abilities of Judge Howe's competitors, we congratulate the people of Wisconsin that they will have another United States senator whose integrity and ability will give the state that position in the national councils to which she is justly entitled.—Beloit Journal.

Does our friend refer to the recent speech of Judge Howe delivered at Ripon? We hope the friends of Judge Howe do not generally partake of the spirit of the above article. If they do, it bodes no good to the republican party in Wisconsin. We understand that the questions alluded to had no influence in determining the choice for senator. If they did not, the boastings of the Journal are out of place, and may do harm.

The Neapolitan branch of Victor Emanuel's kingdom is not yet in a settled condition. Gaeta held out, at last advices, in spite of a bombardment. In Naples and elsewhere, affairs are in a volcanic condition, with occasional exceptions on a small scale, and a more formidable one imminent. Southern and northern Italy do not readily assimilate.

IMPORTANT LIFE INSURANCE CASE—INTEMPERANCE NO BAR TO RECOVERY OF POLICY.—For three days past the circuit court has been engaged in the trial of a cause entitled Henry Rawles vs. American Life Insurance Company. The plaintiff had a policy of insurance for $5,000 upon the life of the late John L. Fish, taken in 1853 to secure a debt. The company declined to pay the amount of the policy on the ground that Fish was intemperate when it was issued. The cause was tried in our circuit and decided for the plaintiff for the full amount claimed. An appeal was taken and the general term set aside the verdict on account of an error in ruling.

The cause was again tried, and concluded this morning. Messrs. Birdseye of New York, and Matthews of this city, conducted the cause for the plaintiff; Messrs. Selden, Cogswell and Beach, of this city, for defendants. The case went to the jury this morning, and the following question was put:

"Was John L. Fish, on the 16th day of July, 1853, to the knowledge of James C. Marsh, in the habit of intemperate drinking to such an extent as had or would, in the opinion of Mr. Marsh, impaired his constitution or general health?"

The jury answered that they thought the statement made by Mr. Marsh was made thoughtfully and according to the best of his knowledge.

The jury balloted on retiring, and without debate stood eleven for plaintiff to one for defendants, and shortly agreed upon a verdict for $6,081,57, the full amount claimed and interest.

In the progress of the suit, the question arose as to how much a man might drink and not be a drunkard. Witnesses varied their answers according to their peculiar notions. Some thought two or three glasses a day was sufficient, while others contended for more.

Dr. Moore admitted that liquor drinking might be indulged to some extent without injury to the constitution, if it was naturally strong and vigorous—the constitution and not the liquor.—From the Rochester Union, January 12.

REBELLIONS AGAINST THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT.—Since the organization of the federal government there have been ten attempts made to resist its authority.

The first was in 1782, and was a conspiracy of some of the officers of the federal army to consolidate the thirteen states into one, and confer the supreme power on Washington.

The second was in 1787, called 'Shay's Insurrection,' in Massachusetts.

The third was in 1794, popularly called 'The Whisky Insurrection of Pennsylvania.'

The fourth instance was in 1814, by the Hartford convention of Federalists.

The fifth, on which occasion the different sections of the Union came into collision, was in 1820, under the administration of President Monroe, and occurred on the question of the admission of Missouri into the Union.

The sixth was a collision between the legislature of Georgia and the federal government in regard to certain lands given by the latter to the Creek Indians.

The seventh was in 1820, with the Cherokees in Georgia.

The eighth was the memorable nullifying ordinance of South Carolina in 1832.

The ninth was in 1842, and occurred in Rhode Island, between the 'Suffrage Association' and the state authorities.

The tenth was in 1856, on the part of the Mormons who resisted the Federal Authority.

Pencilings.

BY CARRIE VERNON.

"Hast thou entered into the treasures of the snow. Or hast thou seen the treasures of the hail!"—Bible.

The first white flake of snow! There it comes, winging its way toward our window—now it rests upon the window sill. Let us examine it. This presents a perfect octagon of tiny leaflets; this other, its companion, which could not rest even up yonder, after the other had left, sparkles in a more regal-like star than even the Prince of Wales exhibited upon his breast.

Beautiful is a feeble word with which to express its loveliness, or reverence the feeling with which we inspect the symmetry and crystaline purity of this winged messenger of the All-father. Another follows, and yet another—anon, the air is filled with them; the prairie is whitening beneath the falling treasure, and the old oak near the window "wears ermine too dear for an earl."

Then we turn gratefully to the ruddy glow of the cheery firelight and the well-filled table, with a half sigh for our sister Kansas whom experience is now teaching to con by heart the sorrowful refrain—"'Tis a most bitter lot to be poor when it snows," and we breathe a God-speed to the bountiful gifts for the famine-stricken.

Then, as the snow-flakes, seeking companionship, are huddling in the hollows and building drifts for their pastime, do we think of the many above whose clasped hands and marble brows these are for the first time heaping, and a white-winged thought by our side doth bid us look upon those spots beneath the snow-wreaths which attract earth's newly bereaved, as the lode-star doth the needle; and as a glove-like hand passes over our eyes we gaze upon an arctic region away, per mare, per terram, per glaciam, whose mountain piled on mountain of the frozen waterdrop, hold within their stern, silent embrace, the brave voyager and his ice-enthralled vessel—homeward bound nevermore!

Again, towards the sunset, there is a plain whose sandy barrenness no shadow of a rock in all that weary land lengthens for the weary traveler; but away yonder, upon its trackless, shifting sands beneath that thorny cactus, lies the last of earth of him who but yesterday went out from the household throng, strong in his early manhood to do and suffer.

Anon, our glance rests upon a wide waste of ever changing waves, and beneath them, away down in the sea-hollows we discern something white and glistening—and oh our Father, why did not hold safe as in the hollow of thy hand that portion of the sea in which the ark of our loved one rocked to and fro?

"Thy waiting love beholding our pitiful life below,
From the holy hight of thy heaven above,"—

Now, by the magic touch of those thought-fingers doth the lights and shadows of a night scene become imprinted upon the retina, and I behold a pale young mother as she disrobes her best-beloved, her golden-haired, rose-cheeked boy, and as the chubby arms are twined about her neck, and the rosy cheek pressed to hers, and the lips meet in a good night kiss, doth she thank God in her heart for this dear comforter, in her shadowed pathway, and bends over his pillow for another caress with a yearning, pleading, "you do love mama, don't you, darling?"—and oh! the response echoes and re-echoes in the halls of memory; and the arms are entwined again in a long, fervent embrace, and seated by the bedside she soon lists to the heavy breathing of tired, slumbering childhood.

* * * * *

Can I write more of this—do we live to say that nevermore have we looked upon the face of our darling, that the tall flames that night rose above the roof where he slumbered and that since then we have never been able to find him? Oh, our Father! we clasp our hands and beseech thee to tell us where he hath gone—we want him! We have nothing to love upon the face of the wide earth as we did him. Shall we ever see him face to face, to know even as we have known? Has he—have all those who have left us, who have lain in the casket beneath the snow-wreaths—have they entered the treasures of the snow, beyond the clouds—can they tell us of the treasures of the hail?

ROCK PRAIRIE, DEC. 16, 1860.

THAT STATE HOLE.—We learn from the Mineral Point Intelligencer that application is again to be made to the legislature for an appropriation from the state, this time only $30,000, to dig a hole in the ground to test the lower lime rock, as to whether it bears mineral and how much. We again protest. Let the test be made up among the Wisconsin and Mississippi bluffs where the lower rock out crops and where the bumps are bald and clear of surface rubbish. Why dig 200 to 400 feet deep, when the same rock may be looked into by day light, without expense? We do not believe that any old, practical miner—free from interest in such appropriation or the promise of reward, and uninfluenced by friends, has any faith in the lower magnesian lime rock; considering also water and expense, such miners condemn meddling with the lower rock. We repeat what we affirmed years ago, that this whole matter of calling for state aid for such work is, in our candid opinion, designed for speculation and is conceived in the barren womb of men past labor and living in the natural way of industry; of course such could afford ultimate disappointment and popular ridicule for temporary glory and the handling of $30,000, an amount which can but lead to another $30,000—then $100,000, and finally to the slandering of the state for not appropriating another small sum to finish the hole and consummate this most glorious inverted monument of state pride!—Grant County Herald.

A SLANDERER COWHIDED BY FEMALES.—Saginaw (Mich.) Republican of the 7th says:

The quiet village of Midland City was the scene of considerable excitement one day last week. It appears that a gentleman of the town had been in the habit of speaking disrespectfully of certain ladies, which brought down the ire of the fair sex, and they firmly resolved upon vengeance. They accordingly met, and six of them with whips in hand, proceeded to the gentleman's place of business, and gave him a sound thrashing. We understand the community are very much upon the side of the ladies who thus vindicated their own characters.

FIRE AT RACINE.—It is rumored that there was a severe fire at Racine. We have no particulars.

☞ "Ralph Easel," the Paris correspondent of the New York Express, tells the following capital story:

One of my Parisian confreres tells a capital story to the discomfiture of a celebrated physician, who is not, as he carefully declares, the famous Dr. Trousseau, though the initial of his name is among the last letters of the alphabet. I will add my own assurance that the member of the faculty in question is not Prof. Valpeau, whose initial letter might be compromised, if this precautionary statement were emitted. If you should really be curious to learn who is alluded to, I recommend you to apply to one of our Parisian medical brethren!

The celebrated physician, whoever he may be, had attended the only child of rich parents, and had, with the aid of Providence, saved the infant's life. A day or two after her darling was pronounced out of danger, the grateful mother visited the man of science at his office.

"Doctor," said she, "there are certain services which mere money cannot remunerate. Scarcely knowing how to discharge my debt to you, I have thought you might be willing to accept this pocket-book, which I have myself embroidered, as a trifling token of my gratitude."

"Madame," retorted the disciple of Æsculapius, somewhat rudely, "the practice of medicine is not a matter of sentiment. 'Time is money,' and we expect our time to be paid for in cash. Pretty presents may serve to perpetuate friendship, but they do not contribute to the cost of housekeeping."

"Well then, Doctor," replied the lady, much wounded by his tone and manner, "be good enough to name the sum at which you value your professional services."

"Certainly, Madame. My charge in your instance, is two thousand francs."

Without further remark, the lady opened the rejected pocket-book, which she still held in her hand, took two of the five thousand franc notes stowed inside, placed them on the great man's table, and quietly bid him good morning. The doctor has not yet entirely recovered his disturbed equanimity.

THE ABOLITION OF SERFAGE IN RUSSIA.—Last Sunday, Jan. 13th, was a great day in Russia. It was New Year's day in that country, where the "old style" still continues, which occasions a difference of twelve days. On that day the law emancipating the serfs went into effect. To-day, it may be said, in a general sense, slavery, or that species of it which has been called "serfage," exists not in Russia. This is certainly the most remarkable event of the year 1861, thus far.

This important measure began to be agitated in the autumn of 1837. For three years it has engrossed public attention in Russia, almost to the exclusion of everything else. Nor need we wonder, for it is by far the most important step which the government of the empire has taken for several centuries.

In regard to the number of serfs in Russia, there seems to be a great diversity of statement. In an article in the Westminister Review for October last, the number is put down at twenty-two million. Some of our American papers place it at twenty million. The Westminister, however, only speaks of the serfs of the nobles; it does not give, we believe, the number of those that belong to the Czar, or crown, as we should say.

In 1840 the case stood thus—(we give the figures derived from the books of the "Ministers of the Public Domains")—26,500,000 serfs belonged to the nobles and other proprietors, 1,600,000 belonged to the estates assigned by the emperor to members of the imperial family, and 20,000,000 belonged to the crown—making a total of 48,000,000 millions of men, women and children in their various classes of serfs. We ought to state, however, that the serfs that belonged to the emperor (who were in all 21,600,000 in reality,) were "crown peasants" rather than ordinary serfs. They were proud of that relation, and considered themselves much better off than the common serfs, and so they were.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

THE PINERY.—We learn that there is about a foot of snow up the Wolf river, and that the lumbermen are getting on excellently with their winter's operations. If the favorable weather continues, there will be not less than 75,000,000 feet of logs cut before spring.—Oshkosh Northwestern.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

GAS COMPANY MEETING.—The meeting of the stockholders of the gas company called to-morrow evening will be an important one, and it is desirable that all the stockholders attend. We understand that some propositions will be offered, or at least statements as to the condition of the company will be made, which all interested should hear.

PRIZE TRUMPET.—The prize trumpet awarded at the state fair in Madison to engine company No. 2 is now on exhibition at Spaulding's jewelry store. It is a beautiful piece of work, and contains the following inscription:

"Prize awarded to Water Witch Engine Company No. 2, Janesville. Best playing at the State Fair held in Madison October 20, 1860. C. P. King, Foreman.

Thus far our fortune keeps an onward course
And we are graced with the wreaths of victory."

"THREE TIMES AND OUT."—We publish the delinquent tax list again this afternoon, under authority of a special law of the legislature. It is "calculated" that the publication this time will stick, and that delinquents must pay or be sold out. We hope the former alternative will be generally adopted. The list has materially diminished since the first publication.

DERANGEMENT OF TRAINS.—The storm which commenced Wednesday evening delayed the trains on all the roads leading into the city by drifting the snow upon the tracks. The cars on the Chicago and Northwestern road, which left Chicago yesterday at 12:30 noon, arrived here to-day at 1:30 P. M., staying during the night in a snow drift between Clinton and Sharon. No train left yesterday for Oshkosh, but will start on time this afternoon.

On the Milwaukee and Prairie du Chien road, the afternoon train from Milwaukee reached Milton and stayed there during the night. The noon train from Madison was stopped between Edgerton and Milton, and remained over night. The Monroe train due at 11 o'clock A. M. reached here at 4 P. M. No train left here for Monroe.

On the Galena and Chicago the train due here in the afternoon was delayed two hours.

The tracks, however, are now all clear, and trains on each road will arrive and depart on regular time. A large amount of mails, freight and express matter accumulated here, which will go forward to-day.

For the Daily Gazette.

A Prophecy.

There's a little cloud in the sky
That is widening every hour;
There are muttered thunders far away
Where the vivid lightnings flash and play.
Oh! a storm of mighty power
Is gathering fast, for the sky is thick
With poisonous air, and the heart is sick,
And turns away from the fearful sight
Of wrong, that triumphs o'er the right.

But there's a God in heaven,
He hath listened to our cry;
And now He hath lifted His mighty hand
To sweep the sin away from the land;
And down from His throne on high
The avenging bolts, the fieryflash
Of His judgments fall with a fearful crash—
The tyrants tremble on bended knee,
The chains are broken, the bond go free.

RANGE OF COLUMBIAD SHELL GUNS.—The furthest range of a hundred-pound shell, even at an elevation of thirty-five degrees given to the gun, is 4,828 yards; the time of flight being thirty-five seconds. The great twelve-inch Columbiad, the largest gun made, loaded with twenty-five pounds of powder, a shell of 172 pounds, and the piece at an elevation of thirty-five degrees, has made a range of only 5,409 yards, the projectile occupying thirty-two seconds in its flight. By increasing the elevation to thirty-nine degrees, only 100 yards more were gained in the range. From the same gun, with a charge of powder twenty-eight pounds, a shell of 180 pounds and an elevation of thirty-five degrees, a range of 5,671 yards has been attained, and at an elevation of thirty-nine degrees a range of 5,761 yards (three and third miles), which is the greatest that has ever been accomplished by any gun in our service. The flight occupied thirty-six seconds. Charleston is, therefore, perfectly safe from the guns of Fort Sumpter. If it were even within the furthest range of those guns, the angle of elevation necessary to accomplish such a distance is so extreme that to hit the city would be a matter of extreme uncertainty. The guns of Fort Sumpter can only be raised to an elevation of thirty-three degrees on account of the casements, and consequently could do no damage beyond about two miles and a half.

A ten-inch Columbiad, at an elevation of thirty-three degrees, will throw a shell about three miles. There are no such guns in barbette at Fort Sumpter, and if there are any casement guns of that caliber, no such elevation could be had. The upper surface of the guns would strike against the top of the embrasure at an elevation far short of thirty-three degrees.

FORT PICKENS.—Much interest attaches to this fortress, situated on an island opposite the Pensacola navy yard, at last accounts garrisoned by a small force of United States troops collected from Fort McRae, Fort Barrancas and the neighboring public works. Fort Pickens is one of the strongest posts in the country. It is built of granite, and cost the government one million of dollars. It is about a mile and a half from the navy yard and cannot be successfully attacked without a strong naval force, inasmuch as the island upon which it is built is covered with water by every strong gale which sweeps across the gulf. The United States steamer Wyandotte (5 guns) is there. The sloop-of-war Macedonian was sent with reinforcements for Fort Pickens, from Boston, a few days since. It is devoutly to be hoped that they may reach their destination ere the weakness of the garrison or the treachery of the commander permits this important post to fall into the hands of the mob assembled to take possession of it.—Chicago Tribune.

Should the terrible conflagrations that are sweeping over the country in all directions prove as frequent and disastrous for a twelve month to come as they have during the last eighteen months, very many of the small Fire Insurance Companies, having their agents scattered throughout the west, must go to the wall, there is no salvation for them. If you would be safe, safe beyond peradventure, always insure with companies that are known to be sound. Such, and such only, are represented at

The attention of the community is respectfully called to the following features in connection with this Company:

First—By insuring in this company, the advantages of a Mutual Insurance Company are obtained, with the additional advantage afforded in the security given by an ample and reliable Cash Capital—a feature not presented by ordinary Mutual Fire Insurance Companies. The dividends to customers, already declared, are as follows:

1st Division to Policy-Holders,				1857,	33½ Pct
2d	"	"	"	1858,	50 "
3d	"	"	"	1859,	50 "
4th	"	"	"	1860,	45 "

Second—The security given, which is already large, will constantly increase with each year of successful operation. This is exhibited clearly in the following statement, showing the position of the company in each year since the new system was adopted.

July, 1856, Net Assets of the Company,	$570,363 43
" 1857, " " "	640,719 54

" 1859, " " "	935,081 84
" 1860, " " "	993,208 28

Third—The insured incur no liability whatever, while obtaining these advantages of superior security and cheapness.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Amalgamation of Languages.—There is a growing tendency in this age to appropriate the most expressive words in other languages, and after a while to incorporate them into their own: thus the word Cephalic, which is from the Greek, signifying "for the head," is now becoming particularized in connection with Mr. Spaulding's great Headache remedy, but it will soon be used in a more general way, and the word Cephalic will become as common as electrotype and many others whose distinction as foreign words has been worn away by common usage until they seem "native and to the manor born."

'ardly Realized.

Hi 'ad 'n 'orrible 'eadache this afternoon, hand I stepped into the 'apothecaries hand says hi to the man, "Can you heause me of an 'eadache?" "Does it hache 'ard," says 'e. "Hexceedingly," says hi, hand upon that 'e gave me a Cephalic Pill, hand 'pon me 'onor it cured me so quick that I 'ardly realized I 'ad 'ad an 'eadache.

Headache is the favorite sign by which nature makes known any deviation whatever from the natural state of the brain, and viewed in this light it may be looked on as a safeguard intended to give notice of disease which might otherwise escape attention, till too late to be remedied; and its indications should never be neglected. Headaches may be classified under two names, viz: Symptomatic and Idiopathic. Symptomatic headache is exceedingly common and is the precursor of a great variety of diseases, among which are Apoplexy, Gout, Rheumatism and all febrile diseases. In its nervous form it is sympathetic of disease of the stomach constituting sick headache, of hepatic disease constituting bilious headache, of worms, constipation and other disorders of the bowels, as well as renal and uterine affections. Diseases of the heart are very frequently attended with headaches; Anæmia and plethora are also affections which frequently occasion headache. Idiopathic headache is also very common, being usually distinguished by the name of nervous headache, sometimes coming on suddenly in a state of apparently sound health and prostrating at once the mental and physical energies, and in other instances it comes on slowly, heralded by depression of spirits or acerbity of temper.—In most instances the pain is in the front of the head, over one or both eyes, and sometimes provoking vomiting; under this class may also be named Neuralgia.

For the treatment of either class of headache the Cephalic Pills have been found a sure and safe remedy, relieving the most acute pains in a few minutes, and by its subtle power eradicating the diseases of which headache is the unerring index.

Bridget.—Missus wants you to send her a box of Cephalic Glue, no, a bottle of prepared Pills,—but I'm thinking that's not just it neither; but perhaps ye'll be after knowing what it is. Ye see she's nigh dead and gone with the sick headache, and wants some more of that same as relaived her before.

Druggist.—You must mean Spalding's Cephalic Pills.

Bridget.—Och! sure now and you've sed it, here's the quarter and give me the pills and dont be all day about it aither.

Constipation or Costiveness.

No one of the "many ills flesh is heir to" is so prevalent, so little understood, and so much neglected as costiveness. Often originating in carelessness, or sedentary habits; it is regarded as a slight disorder of too little consequence to excite anxiety, while in reality it is the precursor and companion of many of the most fatal and dangerous diseases, and unless early eradicated it will bring the sufferer to an untimely grave. Among the lighter evils of which costiveness is the usual attendant are Headache, Colic, Rheumatism, Foul Breath, Piles and others of like nature, while a long train of frightful diseases such as Malignant Fevers, Abcesses, Dysentary, Diarrhœa, Dyspepsia, Apoplexy, Epilepsy, Paralysis, Hysteria, Hypochondriasis, Melancholy and Insanity, first indicate their presence in the system by this alarming symptom. Not unfrequently the diseases named originate in Constipation, but take on an independent existence unless the cause is eradicated in an early stage. From all these considerations it follows that the disorder should receive immediate attention whenever it occurs, and no person should neglect to get a box of Cephalic Pills on the first appearance of the complaint, as their timely use will expel the insiduous approaches of disease and destroy this dangerous foe to human life.

A Real Blessing.

Physician.—Well, Mrs. Jones, how is your headache?

Mrs. Jones.—Gone! Doctor, all gone! the pill you sent cured me in just twenty minutes, and I wish you would send more so that I can have them handy.

Physician.—You can get them at any Druggists.—Call for Cephalic Pills, I find they never fail, and I recommend them in all cases of headache.

Mrs. Jones.—I shall send for a box directly, and shall tell all my suffering friends, for they are a real blessing.

Twenty Millions of Dollars Saved.—Mr. Spalding has sold two millions of bottles of his celebrated Prepared Glue and it is estimated that each bottle saves at least ten dollars worth of broken furniture, thus making an aggregate of twenty millions of dollars reclaimed from total loss by this valuable invention. Having made his glue a household word, he now proposes to do the world still greater service by curing all the aching heads with his Cephalic Pills, and if they are as good as his glue, headache will soon vanish away like snow in July.

Over Excitement, and the mental care and anxiety incident to close attention to business or study, are among the numerous causes of nervous headache. The disordered state of mind and body incident to this distressing complaint is a fatal blow to all energy and ambition. Sufferers by this disorder can always obtain speedy relief from these distressing attacks, by using one of the Cephalic Pills whenever the symptoms appear. It quiets the overtasked brain, and soothes the strained and jarring nerves, and relaxes the tension of the stomach which always accompanies and aggravates the disordered condition of the brain.

Fact Worth Knowing.—Spalding's Cephalic Pills are a certain cure for Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Nervous Headache, Costiveness and General Debility.

Great Discovery.—Among the most important of all the great medical discoveries of this age may be considered the system of vaccination for protection from Small Pox, the Cephalic Pill for relief of headache, and the use of Quinine for the prevention of fevers, either of which is a sure specific, whose benefits will be experienced by suffering humanity long after their discoverers are forgotten.

Did you ever have the sick headache? Do you remember the throbbing temples, the fevered brow, the loathing and disgust at the sight of food. How totally unfit you were for pleasure, conversation or study.—One of the Cephalic Pills would have relieved you from all the suffering which you then experienced. For this and other purposes you should always have a box of them on hand to use as occasion requires.

All kinds of

By the use of these pills the periodic attacks of Nervous or Sick Headache may be prevented; and if taken at the commencement of an attack immediate relief from pain and sickness will be obtained.

They seldom fail in removing Nausea and Headache to which females are so subject.

They act gently upon the bowels,—removing Costiveness.

For Literary Men, Students, delicate females, and all persons of sedentary habits, they are valuable as a Laxative, improving the appetite, giving tone and vigor to the digestive organs, and restoring the natural elasticity and strength of the whole system.

The CEPHALIC PILLS are the result of long investigation and carefully conducted experiments, having been in use many years, during which time they have prevented and relieved a vast amount of pain and suffering from headache, whether originating in the nervous system or from a deranged state of the stomach.

They are entirely vegetable in their composition, and may be taken at all times with perfect safety without making any change of diet, and the absence of any disagreeable taste renders it easy to administer them to children.
